

COMPETITOR ANALYSIS

Competitor Type	Buisness Name & Platform	Content Strategy	Product Catalogue	Unique Selling Point	Recommendations
Direct	Ecesis Hadmade (Instagram)	Focus on soft colors for visuals. Do product reveals and packaging videos with relate-able audio hooks.	Includes crochet wallets with ribbons, coquette pouches, and custom items.	Use Eco-friendly and sustainable products. Implies emotional strategy of Islamic approach in reels.	As they operate primarily as transactional retail front, Yarn Charms can differentiate by publishing free tutorials to attract hobbyists who wants to learn for free.
Direct	Crazy Crochet Corner (Instagram)	Use high intent regional keywords in captions and hooks.	Focus on trending impulse buy gift items like custom name tags, cardholders, wallets, bouquets and keychains.	Provide name customization. Unlike other local creators, uses IG retail shop to list product pricing and shipping details.	As their account is weak on visuals and feels disorganized, Yarn Charms can produce visually appealing and organized content.
Direct	Crochet Crafters (Facebook)	Mainly posts static product posts with customer reviews occasionally to build trust. Use emotional trendy hooks in reels.	Flower bouquets, wearable, like frocks and sweaters, and home decor like cushions.	Have Build trust with local community.	As they use DM to order strategy forcing interested buyers to chat to get information, Yarn Charm can counter this by giving product and shipping details beforehand.
Indirect	Etsy Sellers (Etsy)	Keyword optimized static listing of products and marketplace search SEO.	Standard gifts and PDF patterns.	Provide high quality product tutorials.	Can build trust with video tutorials, behind the scenes shots and organic reach via reels that Etsy sellers lack.